Greatest Values in Dress Goods

This Week the Store Has Ever Offered SPECIAL SALE BEGINS TO-MORROW.

A Richmond lady who had received samples of dress goods from one of the largest department stores in the United States—a store claiming to undersell any of its competitors—brought the samples here to compute them with our dress goods. Her opinion is that our styles are far more desirable, and, quality for quality, our prices lower than those of the metropolitan store.

Rummage Sale.

The ladies of St. Lake's Church Guild have arranged to hold a "sale for the poor" on lower Main Street for the week beginning Monday November 13th. This "mission" of the Episcopai Church situated in a large and promising field in the West End, has been without a cector for two years; yet the regular church services, two on Sunday and one during the week, have been held during that time by jaymen, two Sunday schools, a morning and afternoon, and a day school have been maintained. The parish or day school, with paid teacher and sixty-three scholars enrolled is a feature of the work at St. Luke's. The expenses of this school are largely met out of the tuition of 10 cents per week for each scholar, . Contributions of rummage in aid of this work are solicited, and the notice of which may be sent to 'phone 402, may be called on or hefore the above date.

yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Rev. Warren Horton Stewart was or-dained to the Gospel ministry as a foreign evangelist of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The commission recently appointed by East Hanover Presbytery for conducting this ordination consisted of the Rev. Dr. P. T. McFaden, of the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Russell Cecil, of the Second Presbyterian Church, and Ruling Elders M. M. Gilliam, S. H. Hawes and John A. Cook, Sr. By special invitation of this commission, the ordination sermon was preached by the Rev.

Invitation of this commission, the ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore, president of Union Theological Seminary, and the Rev. Dr. Thomas R. English, professor of the English Bible and Homileties in the same institution, delivered the charge to the young minister after his ordination. Dr. Moore's sermon was of that high order which characterizes all his public efforts and was eminently appropriate to the occasion. He took for his text Acts i.S.—'But ye shall requive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria, and unto the uttermist agent.

As no landscape feature can be properly judged and appreciated without taking into consideration its surroundings, so no text of Scripture can be properly interpreted and understood without taking into due consideration the context and the peculiar circumstances under which the words were uttered. "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver," and it was characteristic of the sayings of our Lord that they were always pre-eminently opportune. With this preliminary fact in mind, a peculiar meaning is imparted to the words of our text.

Three Great Truths.

The second meeting of the Past Grand Association of Richmond will be held in the hall of Aurora Lodge, No. 116, 1, 0, 0, F., on Tuesday, commencing at 5 o'clock P. M. It is specially requested that every member of the association who was present at its organization last month attend this meeting, and also past grands are requested to bring with them those past grands of their acquaintance who have not already become members. Very important business will be transcarnated in the Son of God is the power which has swept the opposing forces of the earth before it. The history of the Church of Christ bears witness to the fact that the blessing of God has been upon those who have preached the truth as it has been incarnated in Jesus of Nazareth. The work of the church, therefore, is to preach Christ.

therefore, is to preach Christ.

2. "The field of the church." This consideration is especially appropriate and important upon this occasion of the ordination of one of the choice young men of the church as an evangelist in the foreign field." It was in Christ that the swaddling clothes of Jewish narrowness and seclusion were burst, and the religion of the one God was proclaimed to every nation on the earth that all may walk in the light of His Gospel. But this proclamation through Christ is no evidence of a change in God's eternal purpose, though it was so understood by ages before the promise was of God that the Gospel should be an universal Gospel-"In thee shell all the nations of the earth be blessed" was spoken to the earth be blessed" was spoken to Abraham; and again comes the prophesy of old that the Messian should be given "the heathen for His inheritance and the uttermest parts of the earth for His possession." And thus this idea of one religion for the whole world is found all through the Old Testament. Then, at the very foundation of the Church, on the Day of Pentacost, the descent of the Spirit upon the disciples in the form of cloven tongues betokened the fact that this Gospel was to be preached in all the languages of the earth. In the work of Phillip the evangelist, of Peter the apostle, and of Paul the great apostle of the Gentles, the same idea of a universal Gasnel is set forth. But what is the significance of that wonderful revival of the missionary spirit during the past century? What the significance of the fact that there is no land to which the Gospel has not been taken, and of the fact that thousands of the voung men of the church are consecrating themselves to this cause? These things are but the fulfillment of Christ's great command before His ascension, that the Gospel should be preached in "the uitermost part of the earth."

At the close of Dr. Moore's sermon, the formal ordination excelses were conducted by the commission appointed for the purpose. Dr. Ceell prepounded the constitutional questions, which were satisfactorily answered by the candidate. Then the impressive ceremony of the laying on of hands was conducted, the prayer of ordination being offered by the paster of the Recond Church.

Charge to Minister, Abraham; and again comes the prophesy of old that the Messiah should be given Paul the great abostle of the Gentiles, of the same idea of a universal Gossel is set forth. But what is the significance of the fact that should be present as in all the significance of the fact that there is no land to which the Gossel has not been taken, and of the fact that thousands of the voun men of the thurch are consecrative themselves to this cause? These things are but the divine service. The interrelation of Christ's great command before His ascension, that the Gossel handle be presented in "the ultermost part of the causes" these things are but the divine service. The interrelation of Christ's great command before His ascension, that the Gossel is the constitutional questions, which were conducted by the commission appointed for the purpose. Dr. Ceel prenounded the constitutional questions, which were satisfactorily answered by the candidate. Then the impressive ceremony of the prayer of ordination exercises were conducted by the candidate. Then the impressive ceremony of the prayer of ordination before the services are consument unveiling. The charge to the newly ordined minister was then delivered by Dr. English, who took as the basis of his sol-Estimated earnings of the Southern Railway system for the fourth week in October are given here:

emn exhortation the words "Take heed to thyself." He urged upon the young minister the careful conservation of his bodily health and vigor, most careful attention to his mental well-being, but, most important of all, a proper care for the condition of his soul. He exhorted to a most careful consideration of the people among whem the young minister should labor; that he should remember that he is called of the Holy Spirit; that he should love his people as a shepheral loves his flock, and that he should feed them upon the bread of life.

Mr. Stewart is a son of Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Stewart, of Hangchow, China, and is himself a native of the Chinese empire. He has been in America for the past twelve years, pursuing his studies at the University of Virginia, of which institution he is a graduate, and at Union Theological Seminary, where he graduated last May and where he is now engaged in post-graduate work and as assistant in the department of Hebrew, the will remain at the seminary until the close of the present session, when he will go with his mother, who is now visiting him here, to his life work in the great mission fields of China.

The morning and evening services at Monumental Church were attended by the usual large congregations. Dr. Eavns hit hard to achieve service whether his at a glaring social error, holding his audience with wrapt attention from start

The text was taken from Matthew v., the eighth verse: "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." The word pure, as generally understood, meaning something unadulterated by any element that does not belong to the soul's composition, one hears of pure metals, drugs and suchlike, knowing they have no foreign matter in their composition. soul's composition, one hears of pure metals, drugs and suchlike, knowing they have no foreign matter in their composition, so is no foreign matter part of the essential heart or soul. It would show lack of intelligence on the part of the maker should it be otherwise, and that would be too mustrous a charge to make to God. Sin is a deformity of character and finds no room in a pure heart; an impure heart finds pleasure in certain forms of cvil and revels in them. The Lord likened certain men to "whited sepulchres." whitening a sepulchre being sufficient for its outside appearance to countement the action of the atmosphere, but not an essential part of the interior decoration. Outward show, however, was not sufficient for us morials. It was essential to have whiteness interwoven in the whole texture. A stream was pure in its virgin state, and if the conditions remained the same, so did the stream, but if foul matter was allowed to flow into the stream it became contaminated.

God's standard for purity was established for us all.
Here one standard of purity is mude

from society, but a man, be he leprous with sin, is pandered to and run after, admitted into circles of purity, allowed to grasp the hand of innocence; in fact, treated well everywhere.

The preacher went on: "Are there two standards of purity? Yes, but we've made them, not God; more's the plty."
It was so in social life and so in the church. A short while ago, in a house, where he was calling, he saw a large and beautifully colored picture, deplcting a gorgeous Eastern scene, feasting, luxurlousness and happiness at the prodfiral son's return, and was tempted to but, of course, it was not there. He looked on two pictures in his heart. In the one everything was sunshine and rejoicing, but the other was hung about with dreariness and cold, as the prodiga

The Holy Father's encyclical letter, requiring that only male voices sing at Catholic Church services, is carried out in detail at St. Mary's. The Psalms of Vespers last, night were beautifully interpreted by Messrs, James L. McAvoy, James A. Grassberger, Charles H. Gardewin, Charles G. Thedleck, Charles M. Bialkowski, The choristers were Messrs. Leo C. Ackerman, Fred L. August, Sylvester L. Kusterer, Henry B. Gverman, William J. Noite, George J. Bialkowski, Fred E. Witteamp, John P. Vincent, Miss Laelia McEvoy presided at the organ, and Rev. Pather Charles, O. S. B. directed the choir, Rev. Father Edward, O. S. B., paster of the church, was most profuse in his praise of the able manner in which the choir has rendered the Gregorian masses and the Vespers.

The people of St. Mary's Church are to be congratulated in being one of the faw Citholic parishes, that have firmly established the Gregorian chant during divine service. The Interest which the members of the choir manifest bids fair to make the services at St. Mary's both devotional and attractive.

Impressive Exercises Held Yesterday Afternoon in Handsome Building:

and Night-Over $1,500 Raised.

The new Immanuel Baptist Church, at Fifth and Leigh Birects, was dedicated yesterday afternoon with impressive exercises, conducted in the presence of a large gathering of members and friends of the congregation. Special services were held morning and night in celebration of the event. In the course of the day a fund of over $1.500, to be used as part payment of the debt upon the building, was raised.

The opening service began at the usual morning hour with the new auditorium crowded to its limit. The programme arranged was carried out in details, the sermos being preached by the pastor, the Rev. E. W. Stone. After an organ voluntary, the congregation standing sang "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." The invocation was made by the pastor, after which several hymns were sung and the Scripture lesson was read. Mr. Stone preached a powerful sermon upon the subject "The Changing and the Unchanging," his text being Matthew xxiv:35.—'Henven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away." He referred to the changes that have taken place in the world, and then passed to those things that are unchanging—the words of Christ, the warnings of Christ and the promises of Christ.

A great congregation was present at warnings of Christ and the promises of Christ.

A great congregation was present at the dedicatory exercises proper, which began at 3.39 o'clock in the afternoon. The service opened with an organ voluntary, followd by an anthem, "Joyful Praise," sung by the choir. The Scripture selections were read by the pastor traver was offered and an anthem was sung by the fine choir of the First Saptist Church. The programme included several other hymns, the declaration by the pastor and the dedicatory prayer by the Rev. Dr. James Nelson, president of the Woman's College, and a former pastor of the church.

sembling of ourselves together." Dr. Hatcher's sermon was very eloquent and offective. He referred to the social life of the church as an essential to the development of Christian character. It was not given to Christian people, he said, to provide the object or the spirit of the service, but the privilege of supplying a place for worship was allowed to them. It was incumbent upon them to make this place comfortable and beautiful, and the sacrifice made by the people in doing this served to develop that Christian character to which the speaker had referred. Dr. Hatcher later made an appeal for contributions to the church fund and took up a collection. The evening service was also very largely attended. The congregation standing sang the doxology, and then united in the Lord's prayer. A greeting from the Baptist brotherhood was brought by the Rev. Dr. Robert H. Pitt, who spoke briefly but eloquently. The night sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. W. C. Taylor, of Petersburg, whose text was Isalah wis and who snoke of the "Vision of the Uplifted Christ," and the effect it produces upon the Immanuel Church was organized.

The Immanuel Church was organized as the Fourth Street Baptist Church March 20, 1890. The name was changed to Immanuel, and the congregation moved into a frame chapel at Fifth and Leigh Streets in October, 1894. The cornerstone of the present building was laid Systember 26, 1992, and the first service was held in the basement on June 5, 1904. The new church is a very handsome and commodous structure and was much admired yesterday.

GREAT ANNIVERSARY. Rev Mr. Hutson Has Appropriate Services.

Rev Mr. Hutson Has Appropriate Services.

Perhaps the largest congregation that ever assembled in Pine Street Baptist Church came together yesterday in celebration of the thirty-third year of the pastorate of Rev. J. B. Hitson. The house was packed from "pit to gallery,"
The aisles were filled, as was the study,
which was opened to the congregation,
and many stood up during the services.
So full was the church that many were turned aside, as there was neither standing or sitting room in the whole buildling to accommodate the crowd.

The morning Services were devoted to a review of the pastorate of Mr.
Hutson in his work of 33 years among the Pine Street flock. In his review of his work the pastor showed that he had received additions to the number of 3,359, and that the diminutions numbered only 1,827. The present membership is listed at 1,690, which makes the Pine Street
Church perhaps the largest in the South.
Mr. Hutson has attended 1,597 funerals, and 37,600 pastoral visits. Three new members were added yesterday morning,
After the morning services, the Lord's Supper was administered to the largest number of communicants who had over assembled in the church.

The evening services were devoted to a paean of thanksgiving to Him who had so blessed the church in the past, and from whom it was hoped that greater blessings would come in the future. The house was packed, and the building was lighted with electricity for the first time, giving a beautiful effect to the whole seene.

giving a beautiful effect to the whole scene.

The whole day was given over to rejoicing and thanksgiving for the many blessings which have been showered upon the church, and for the great number that have been received into its fold. The new organ delighted the congregation, and has been considered by good authority to be of uncommon sweatness.

To-morrow night will be given an organ recital by Mr. A. H. Reese and a large crowd is expected to attend the services.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONFERENCE TO MEET

A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME THIS WEEK

Richmond College to Play William and Mary Next Saturday.

Special Services Held Morning Prospects for the Teams Who Join Froces on Thanksgiving Day.

> interest will be the contest between Rich-mond College and the College of William and Mary next Saturday afternoon in Broad Street Park. Though played be-tween colleges of smaller rank, this game will be of unusual interest in the fact it is the championship contest between the two colleges for the cup of the Eastern Division of the Inter-State-Collegiate Athletic Union. The colleges represented in the Eastern Division, are Richmond, Fredericksburg, Randolph-Macon and William and Mary. The game Saturday will be the first championship game of the season, and for that reason will excite more than the usual amount of interest.
> Between the two aggregations of Richmond College and William and Mary there is not much to choose. Both teams have made marked developments since the last contest, which, at that time, showed that, practically, they stood an equal show, as between themselves, for the cup. will be of unusual interest in the fact showed that, practically, the stood as equal show, as between themselves, for the cup.

It will be a game of evenly matched teams, and there is no foreteiling how frate will cast the dice, Plucky work and a hard-fought game from both teams may be expected, and if there be a winning score, it will be only by a close margin. The teams have played twice. The first time they tited with a score of 0 to 0; in the second, William and Mary won only by the close margin of 4 to 0, a score that was made by a drop kick from the field by William and Mary's quarter/back. So the game next Saturday will be one of nip and tuck and the best team wins, Both teams are preparing for the game; Coaches Dunlop and Blanchard are putting their men through some hard practice, and the game will be one well worth seeing.

through some hard practice, and the game will be one well worth seeing.

Thanksgiving Games.

The game of chief interest now, and the one towards which the eyes of all football lovers are turning, is the Thaksgiving contest between Virginia and Carolina. This game promises to be the one of greatest interest of the scason, now that the game between Virginia should win. V. P. I. is over and decided. Judging by comparative scores. Virginia should win. V. P. I. has defeated both aggregations. Carolina by a score of 24 to 0, and Virginia by II to 0. But comparative scares have always proved to be of doubtful fact. In the game against Georgetown on Saturday Carolina made a fair better showing than she did against V. P. I on Saturday before last, and Virginia has improved to a marked degree since the Carlisle contest. So the Thanksgiving confest in Norfolk cannot be judged by the former standards of the teams, and odds may be placed on either. However, the contest may finish, there is every prospect of a close game, and there is no possibility of a real forecast of the final score. The markin of the winning points will, in all probability, be small, and that is all that may now be said.

As to the Thanksgiving same between V. P. I. and V. M. I. all the odds are in favor of V. P. I. V. M. I. has made little showing so far, and the V. P. I. and V. M. I. all the code are in favor of V. P. I. V. M. I. has made little showing so far, and the V. P. I. aggregation is far in the lead of any team in the South. The game will be one-sided, and there is little doubt that the Polythetchnics will defeat the cade's by a heavy score, even with Carpenter out the game. The equalizer, which the dades are develoning for the game, will be of little use, and they must premote to take defeat with as good a grace as possible. But they put un a sturfy game and will show the pluck for which they are renowned. There is little doubt that they will fight hard, and make a game afternot, io score. So the game will not be iotally devoid of interest,

Dr. Pitt Has Feather-Stitching to Do On Sunday Afternoon.

Dr. Cullen S. Pitt, ambulance surgeon, spent a busy afternoon yesterday. The quiet of Sunday was marred and broken by many a blow of club and slash of knife.

Hallowe'en Party.

Hallowe'en Party.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the past week was the Hallowe'en party Thesslay night, given in the home of Mrs. II. A. Boatwright, on Twenty-sixth Street. The rooms were artistically decorated in autumn leaves, and, jack-olanterns. One of the most amusing features of the evening's enjoyment was the fortune telling of the guests by a glpsy fortune-teller, with many witches in attendance, who had their abode in a tent in one corner of the back parlor. Just as the bells tolled the dismal hour of midnight the guests were ushered into the dining-room, where supper was served in the din lights of jack-o'-lanterns, after which a large pumpkin was brought in. with numberless ribbon streemers on the outside, with which cach guest drew a souvenir from within Among the guests were Missess Eula Woody, Lorine Hay, Nottie Gibson, Kate Thompkins, Emma Smith, Orelia Ganzert, Inez Boatwright, Mary Newman, Willie Peace, Annie and Abbie Bontwright, Ada Peace, Ceell Hay, Clemmle Ford, Mamie Kuhn, Mai Woody, Lorine Hay, Thompkins, Emma Smith, Orelia Ganzert, Inex Boatwright, Mary Newman, Willie Peace, Annie and Abbie Bontwright, Ada Peace, Ceell Hay, Clemmle Ford, Mamie Kuhn, Mai Woody, Clemmle Ford, Mamie Kuhn, Mai Woody, Clemmle Hay, Thompkins and Pucker. But the burden of the message of His disciples was "Christ and Him cruclfied." And, indeed, there was no inconsistency in this, for it was in Christ that the kingdom was restored. They were to preach Him because He is the embodiment of every blessing promised in the Gospel, and in preaching Him they would preach the whole body of tuth. We have mental conceptions, said the minister, in addition to spiritual, but the latter is not active in the unrenewed, but born from above. With purity one may see God, not only in the hereafter, but in this life, and this purity is to be acquired; a simple simile could be taken from a hot, sultry summer day; the trees, flowers and grass are drooping; you yourself hot and nanting, the sum you yourself hot and panting, the sun is setting, and everything has a parched appearance; the night is like an inferno;

SERVICE FOR THE DEAD.

Mary's—Male Choir.

Impressive services for the dead were held yesterday afternoon in St. Mary's German Catholic Cemetery, in the presence of practically the entire congregation of the church, assembled among the graves to unite in prayers for the eternal repose of the souls of those departed. It has been the custom of the church to hold the usual requiem masses upon All Souls' Day, which occurred kast Thursday, but to postpone until we afternoon of the Sunday following the exercises in the cemetery itself. This is done that all may be able to attend. The service was held in the open air, beginning at 3 o'clock. The attendance was very large. The libera was sung by the male choir, after which an appropriate sermon was preached by the Rev. Father Edward, pastor of St. Mary's. A procession of priests and altar boys was then formed, and the graves were blessed.

MAYOR M'CARTHY'S

The people of Richmond who know Mayor McCarthy well are not surprised that he has developed into one of the most unique and interesting Democratic stump speakers in the State, for they have long been acquainted with his wonderful versatility-on his feet, as well as with his wide field of Information.

But the Mayor had not talked Democratic politics outside of Richmord until Sturday, when he made two speeches in Charlotte county.

A gentleman wile was present at the Keysville meeting Saturday night says the Mayor's speech was a wonder and was altogether unique in its style.

The Republican oratiors have said much in the campaign about the alleged broken promises of the Democratis. The Mayor took up the cudgels on this line and fairly flayed the opposition party.

"Have they broken any promises?" he asked. "Well, let us see. They promised to disenfranchise the white people of this Commonwealth. And never accomplished it; they said they would enfranchise the eggo, and they failed in this; they promised mixed schools, but the consummation of this infamy was psycheted by the midst of a splendid speech in Richmond the other night and exclaim: "This is our party; this is our party; this is our standards clean and high.

"Nobody has even known a Republican speaker to invoke divine henediction upon our blessed oid Commonwealth, and you will, perhaps, nover live long caough to hear them do it."
